Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. Business Report

I. Business overview for 2023

For the year 2023, the Company reported consolidated revenues of NT$5,500.87 million (up 29% from the previous year), consolidated gross profit of NT$625.01 million (up 49%), gross profit margin of 11%, consolidated operating profit of NT$290.31 million (up 113%), net operating margin of 5%, consolidated net income of NT$210.95 million, a NT$114.98 million net profit attributable to owners of the parent company, and a NT$0.77 earnings per share.

As a result of the operation of the current year, the cement business has increased profits due to stable production equipment and increased sales volume compared to the previous year. In addition, the building materials business, where ready-mixed mortar(RT-MIX) is made, is used in the decoration stage of construction projects, and the market continues to be active. The overall production and sales volume increased compared to the previous year.

In summary, the Company's overall profit has grown compared to the previous year.

II. Research and Development

The Company will continue its efforts in corporate transformation and investment, hoping to innovate R&D from the perspective of customers, develop high-performance niche products, enhance product competitiveness through differentiation, and create value for the Company and the industry. In light of global climate change and rising environmental awareness, the Company continues to optimize and introduce new cement products that offer energy and carbon reduction benefits. In addition, ShifuGrout U799, an underwater grouting material developed by the Company for offshore wind power, has obtained international third-party product certification, and has become a supplier of ultra-high-strength foundation grouting materials for offshore wind turbines; further developed ShifuGrout U769 for SILO silo systems, Product certification in 2024 is expected; in response to the goal of net zero emissions by 2050, in terms of the carbon reduction strategy for the construction industry, the Company not only invests in low-carbon cement manufacturing technology, but also actively develops green recycled environmental protection and energy-saving building materials "lightweight microbeads", not only to recycle and reuse materials, but also to create a circular green building. This porous functional material has multiple properties such as low density, high strength, light weight, low thermal conductivity, and low water absorption, making it suitable as an intermediate material for thermal insulation, crack resistance, and sound absorption. Thermal insulation and energy saving applications are frequent in the current building market. It can also be widely used in clay building materials, paints, plastic lightweight fillings, floating materials and other applications.

III. Future Outlook

(I) Outlook of the Cement Market

Looking into the domestic cement industry in 2024, the continued promotion of the Foresight Project, the return of investment from Taiwanese businessmen abroad, the expansion of factories in the IT semiconductor industry, the increase in demand for public works, and the increase in new green energy projects such as solar energy and wind power can all drive the growth of cement demand. The domestic cement market in 2024 is expected to be flat compared to 2023.

(II) Market prospect of construction materials

The ready-mixed mortar (RT-mixed) has been increasingly trusted and used by customers. It is expected that the overall sales volume will still perform well in 2024 with the expansion of the market share. For the construction materials agency business, for the first time in cooperation with the Japanese listed company NIHON FLUSH Wooden Door Production Co., Ltd., the Company believes that with products of quality and functions, and our complete distribution channels deployment, and the advantages of the warehouse storage and distribution, and management services, we can make a rapid market entry.

In response to the government's strategy for the offshore wind power industry, the Company has developed offshore wind power underwater foundation grouting materials and has promoted the advantages and contributions of the Company's products to the government's green energy policy in the offshore wind power market. The HDD casing is filled with thermally conductive mud T508 this year. We will also continue to work to increase the visibility of our products in the wind power market, and continue to actively visit the upstream, midstream and downstream of the wind power industry. In response to the needs of developers in future wind farms, the Company has also developed a material G705 that can be applied to negative pressure caisson foundations. This will improve the Company's revenue and profit in the future.

(III) Outlook of Demand for Interior Renovation and Design

The Company's subsidiaries are committed to providing customers with high-quality interior decoration design and related engineering services. Looking to the future, Taiwanese companies have successively returned to establish their headquarters. In addition, the incentive policies for large-scale government urban renewal projects and for dangerous and old buildings have been accelerated. They have also actively participated in the joint development projects of transportation and railroads, including shopping malls, office buildings, and high-end residential public facilities and other large-scale projects. We have integrated aesthetics and sensory experience into the details of design and construction, and continue to create stable profits with high-quality one-stop services.

(IV) Influence of External Competition, Legal Environment, and Macro Business Environment

In recent years, the unstable external environment has brought challenges but also created many opportunities for growth. In 2024, the Foresight project will continue to be promoted, the Taiwanese capital will return, the domestic economy will gradually recover, and the rigid demand in the real estate market will continue. The construction-related peripheral industries are still booming, and the development of various business entities is expected to grow compared to the previous year.

Looking forward to the future, the Company will continue to work hard and uphold the basic concept of "innovation and change, and conscientiousness in each product." By fully developing the Company's core areas of expertise, it will fulfill the long-term expectations of our shareholders, employees, customers and suppliers. We also hope to strengthen the connection with customers, become the trusted first choice for cooperation partners, and aim to become a world-class construction material company.

I wish all shareholders,

Good health and all the best,

Independent Auditors' Report

(2024) Cai-Shen-Bao-Zi No. 23004221

To the Board of Directors of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd.:

Audit Opinions

We have audited the consolidated balance sheets of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as "the Group") for December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022, the consolidated comprehensive income statements, equity statements and cash flow statements of Ruentex Group for the period from Jan. 1 to December 31, 2023 and the period from January 1 to December 31, 2022, and the notes to the consolidated financial report (including a summary of significant accounting policies).

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended is in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations as endorsed and issued by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis of Audit Opinions

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Rules Governing Auditing and Certification of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the section of "Responsibilities of the Accountants for the Audit of Consolidated Financial Statements" in our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that sufficient and appropriate audit evidences have been obtained as a basis to express opinion of the audit.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 2023. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The most significant key audit matters in our audit of the Groups' consolidated financial statements for the year ended 2023 are as follows:

Assessment on Recognition of Construction Contract Income - Construction Completion Progress

Description of Key Audit Matters

Regarding the accounting policy on operating revenue recognition, please refer to Note 4(26) of the consolidated financial report. For the critical accounting estimates and assumptions, please refer to Note 5. For the operating revenue, please refer to Note 6(16).

The Groups' construction contract income was calculated based on the percentage of completion method and according to the completion progress during the construction contract period. The construction progress was calculated based on the percentage of the cost incurred for each construction contract up to the end of the financial report period over the expected total cost for such construction contract. The aforementioned estimation of the expected total cost was provided by the Group based on its estimation on various construction costs required for contracting works and material/labor expenses, etc. according to the quantitative units of design and construction drawings, etc. of owners along with the fluctuation of the current market price at that time.

Since the estimation of construction total cost can affect the recognition of construction completion progress and the construction contract income, and since the construction total cost items are complicated and often involving high degree of estimation, such that it can cause major uncertainty, consequently, we've considered listing the assessment on the construction completion progress used in the recognition of construction contract income as one of the key matters in this year's audit.

Corresponding Audit Procedures

We summarize the audit procedures executed for the aforementioned key audit matters related to construction completion progress as follows:

- 1. Based on our understanding of the business operation and nature of industry of the Group, we assessed the internal operation procedures used in the estimation of construction total cost, including the quantitative unit of design and construction drawings of owners in order to determine the procedures for each construction cost (contracting works and material/labor expense) and the consistency of the estimation method.
- 2. We assessed and tested the internal controls that would affect the recognition of construction contract revenue based on stage of completion, including verifying the evidence of additional or less work and significant constructions.
- 3. We conducted on-site observation and interviews at major construction sites still in progress at the end of the sampling period to confirm that the progress of such projects was proceeding as scheduled.

4. We obtained details of construction profit or loss and performed substantive procedures, including randomly checking the incurred cost of current period with the appropriate evidence, and additional or less work with the supporting documents, and recalculated the stage of completion to ensure a reasonable recognition of construction contract revenue.

Other Matters- Unconsolidated Financial Report

We have audited and expressed an unqualified opinion on the unconsolidated financial statements of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

Responsibilities of the Management and Governing Bodies for Consolidated Financial Statements

The management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIS Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations as endorsed and issued by the Financial Supervisory Commission and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability the continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group's or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Responsibilities of the Accountants for the Audit of Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that included our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatement may be caused by fraud or error. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. Also:

- 1. We identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of consolidated financial statements whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinions. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made at the management level.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- 5. We evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the related disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. We obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for directing, overseeing and executing audit of the Group, and forming the audit opinion for the Group.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings (including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit).

We also provide the governance units with statements that we have complied with relevant matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and we have also communicated with the governance units on all relationships and other matters, including relevant protective measure, that may be considered to affect the independence of auditors.

From matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements of 2023 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation preclude public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Independent Auditors' Report (2024) Cai-Shen-Bao-Zi No. 23003253

To the Board of Directors of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd.:

Audit Opinions

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd., which comprise the unconsolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 and the unconsolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the unconsolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying unconsolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis of Audit Opinions

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Rules Governing Auditing and Certification of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Unconsolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that sufficient and appropriate audit evidences have been obtained as a basis to express opinion of the audit.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the unconsolidated financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2023. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit opinion of the unconsolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Company's unconsolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 are stated as follows:

Assessment on Recognition of Construction Contract Income - Construction Completion Progress

Description of Key Audit Matters

Regarding the accounting policy on operating revenue recognition, please refer to Note 4(24) of the unconsolidated financial report. For the critical accounting estimates and assumptions, please refer to Note 5. For the operating revenue, please refer to Note 6(17).

Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' (investments accounted for using the equity method) construction contract revenue was calculated based on the percentage of completion method and according to the completion progress during the construction contract period. The construction progress was calculated based on the percentage of the cost incurred for each construction contract up to the end of the financial report period over the expected total cost for such construction contract. The aforementioned estimation of the expected total cost was provided by the Group based on its estimation of various construction costs required for contracting works and material/labor expenses, etc. according to the quantitative units of design and construction drawings, etc. of owners along with the fluctuation of the current market price at that time.

Since the estimation of construction total cost can affect the recognition of construction completion progress and the construction contract income, and since the construction total cost items are complicated and often involving high degree of estimation, such that it can cause major uncertainty, consequently, we've considered listing the assessment on the construction completion progress used in the recognition of construction contract income as one of the key matters in this year's audit.

Corresponding Audit Procedures

The procedures that we have conducted in response to the construction completion progress by Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries (accounted in equity method investments) of the above-mentioned key audit matter are summarized as follows:

1. Based on our understanding of the business operation and nature of the industry of Ruentex Materials Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries, we assessed the internal operation procedures used in the estimation of construction total cost, including the quantitative unit of construction drawings of owners in order to determine the procedures for each construction cost (contracting works and material/labor expenses) and the consistency of the estimation method.

- 2. We assessed and tested the internal controls that would affect the recognition of construction contract revenue based on stage of completion, including verifying the evidence of additional or less work and significant constructions.
- 3. We conducted on-site observation and interviews at major construction sites still in progress at the end of the sampling period to confirm that the progress of such projects was proceeding as scheduled.
- 4. We obtained details of construction profit or loss and performed substantive procedures, including randomly checking the incurred cost of current period with the appropriate evidence, and additional or less work with the supporting documents, and recalculated the stage of completion to ensure a reasonable recognition of construction contract revenue.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Unconsolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the unconsolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Firms, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of unconsolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the unconsolidated financial statements, the management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability the continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to being a going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management intends to either liquidate the Company's or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Unconsolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the unconsolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatement may be caused by fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these unconsolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. Also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risk of material misstatement of the unconsolidated financial statements due to fraud or error, design and adopt appropriate countermeasures for the risks assessed, and obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidences in order to be used as the basis for the audit opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- 3. We evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the unconsolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our audit opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the unconsolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the unconsolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence for the financial information of individual entities of the Company and provide opinions on its respective unconsolidated financial statements. We handle the guidance, supervision and execution of the audit on the Company and are responsible for preparing the audit opinion for the Company.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings (including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit).

We also provide the governance units with statements that we have complied with relevant matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and we have also communicated with the governance units on all relationships and other matters, including relevant protective measure, that may be considered to affect the independence of auditors.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of the most significance in the audit of the unconsolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation preclude public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
